

Enid High School Gym & Performing Arts Center, Enid, Oklahoma

With the creation of the new Enid High School competitive gymnasium and performing arts center in 2019, Enid Public Schools wanted to take their facility to another level. This first-class facility provides much-needed space and accommodations for athletics, academic, music, drama, media productions and more. The call to Video Reality was made to take this facility to the peak of performance.

A distributed video system that controls everything from the Scoreboards to the Concession Stand menus throughout the Gymnasium was crucial. This was deployed as solution that maximizes user experience and control. Any display can be alternated and controlled from either or the two wall mounted touch panels or via the iPad app. Thus, in conjunction with Barco's ClickShare, provides control and the ability to share content from anywhere in the facility.

With video feeds from EHS's Production Studio, interviews and live content can be streamed live in the Gymnasium and lobby displays. With the click of a button, the scoreboards show content from several locations and can be operated independently as needed.
